Chapter Eight - Community Facilities

Comment

With regard to Broadband, why can't we lay lines in the streets that are being dug up for water and sewer at the same time? The conduits and space available was more than ample. We have lost a GREAT opportunity by missing out on that as an option since the water sewer project began... imagine the money savings and potential revenue the county missed by not doing this or partnering! Who says the cable companies (need to own) that cable and the rights to it ? Why can we the community own those lines and charge the cable company's who tap them a usage fee, or rebate the consumers bill based on our established cost to install the lines. I'd like to see if this could be done with the remaining water sewer development. What a shame if we missed this opportunity.
