

Sign Definitions

1. Sign means any device visible from a public place that displays messages by means of graphic presentation of alphabetic or pictorial symbols or representations.
2. Sign means any device, fixture, placard, or structure that is not entirely within an enclosed building, when its message is visible from a public or private way or another developed site, and which uses any word, letter, or logo to communicate information of any kind. Searchlights, beacons, strings of lights, banners, flags, pendants and inflated devices shall be considered signs.
3. Sign means any device or image affixed to, painted on, incorporated in a building surface, is displayed from within a building or structure, or is freestanding upon a site, visible from a public right of way, which conveys or directs any information of any kind to the public.
